

dr WIOLETTA WRZASZCZ

Has been a researcher at the Institute of Agricultural and Food Economics – National Research Institute (IAFE-NRI) since 2005. She received her PhD in economics in 2012. Since 2024, she has served as the Head of the Postgraduate Programme at IAFE-NRI. She is currently affiliated with the Department of Agricultural Economics, Agricultural Policy and Rural Development. Since 2025, she has also served as Secretary of the Scientific Council of IAFE-NRI.

Her research interests focus on the sustainable development of agriculture and farms, with particular emphasis on the environmental and economic aspects of agricultural production. Her work is concerned with measuring the sustainability of farms and agriculture using data from the Farm Accountancy Data Network (FADN), the Farm Sustainability Data Network (FSDN), and Statistics Poland (GUS). She is the author of more than 100 scientific publications and dozens of expert reports prepared primarily for the Polish Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development. She lectures in the postgraduate programme “Agriculture and Farm Economics”. For several years, she has been delivering regular training courses for farmers and agricultural advisers.

Since 2012, she has participated in both national and international research projects. She is a member of numerous research teams and professional organisations, including the national and European Associations of Agricultural and Agribusiness Economists (SERiA, EAAE), the Polish Association of Environmental and Resource Economists, and expert groups established by the Polish Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development and the OECD (including the OECD Network for Farm-Level Analysis). She has participated in several international projects funded under the Horizon 2020 programme (MEF4CAP, COOPID, and BioestUp). Since 2023, she has been the Principal Investigator of an OPUS research project at IAFE-NRI, carried out in cooperation with the Poznań University of Economics and Business. Since 2016, she has served as Subject Editor of the scientific journal “Wiadomości Statystyczne. The Polish Statistician”, published by Statistics Poland and the Polish Statistical Association.
